THE DEMON IN PRISON

Ira Marlatt Is Surely Possessed of a Devil.

HIS WICKED LIFE IN COLUMBUS

Terrorizes His Guards and Will Not Allow Them to Help Him In Any Way—A List of His Victims—How the Dreaded Columbiana Man Lives.

The fame of Ira Marlatt has spread beyond the confines of Ohio, and the following resume of his outbreaks was recently printed in the New York World:

Caged like a wild beast in the depths of the Ohio penitentiary, in a cell that no ray of sunlight ever penetrated, surrounded by madmen, yet sane himself, Ira Marlatt, who is proud of his title, "The Demon of the Prison," has been confined two years because of his hatred to mankind.

In that time he has attempted to take the lives of eight men, made an attack on Warden Coffin, and even planned an assault on Governor Bushnell. In that time, the guards say, he has been undergoing an uncanny physical change and is losing his semblance to a man and becoming a demoniac.

Four years ago Marlatt was brought to the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus a prisoner for life for murder committed in a northern county. He had been a hermit, and weird stories were told of him by the deputy sheriffs who brought him in, heavily manacled. "He is not insane, but the devil is in him," they said. He was only thirty-five then, but bore the marks of the degenerate. His eyes were like a tiger's and burned like coals. His long, square jaws were rigid, and his ears were strangely pointed and inclined forward. His look gave the prison officials a very uncomfortable feeling, and they scented trouble ahead, especially when they learned that he had shot the sheriff who attempted to arrest him for murder and that it had taken a posse to capture him in his hermitage. Marlatt had murdered a man for trying to cheat him in the sale of a piece of land.

In his cell in the penitentiary asylum he outraves the convict maniacs, and silences them when he engages in a combat with his guards. For two years he has never left his cell, but has manufactured innumerable knives and other weapons, displaying such skill and cunning that he has been able to make a stiletto out of a wire or a deadly dagger out of the handle of a tin bucket. Though living mainly on bread and water prescribed by the prison officials to reduce his strength, he fights like a demon and rages like a tiger. His strength, ferocity and rage are appalling.

Marlatt has always refused to work. Punishment has been in vain. The most severe prison torture had no effect on him. He sullenly endured punishment for several days, never changing a muscle of his face. He was flogged, shocked with the electric battery, spanked with a huge wooden paddle on the bare flesh, handcuffed by the wrists to a wall for twelve days, but to no purpose. He was as defiant as ever.

The prison doctors declared that he was not crazy. The guards then tried to make him work on the stone pile. He submitted for a moment, but when the guard's back was turned he took off one of his socks, put a stone in it, and with the novel slungshot whacked the guard on the head, almost fracturing his skull. He afterwards got hold of a knife and stabbed a guard. They put him in irons. He broke them, and it required five guards to subdue him.

They locked him up in a solitary cell for weeks. Thinking he was tamed at last, they let him out, but as soon as released he whipped out an ugly knife that he had made from the "shank" of his shoe and attempted to kill a guard. Then they said he was a demon and put him in a cell in the prison asylum.

He cunningly made friends with the lunatics, who passed into his cell bits of iron and steel, from which he made sharp knives and daggers of wonderful workmanship. With one of these in his hand he would lie in wait for weeks till a guard had occasion to unlock and enter his cell. Then a terrific combat would take place, the guard sometimes emerging bleeding from half a dozen wounds. After one or two such desperate encounters the officials had a strong cell built for the demon immediately back of his own cell. It is barely three feet wide and six feet long, and is made of sheet iron, pierced with holes. It is covered on the outside with a wire screen to prevent anything being passed in to him. The cell's only furniture is a bare bunk and a bucket. Into this cage guards drove Marlatt from his own cell. They locked and double-locked the strong iron cell, and there in the gloom Marlatt, the demon, has lived and planned murder for two years.

"He begins to look like the devil," said Guard O'Brien a few days ago in all seriousness, "and I wouldn't be surprised any day after a tussle with him to find he has grown horns and a tail. He'll kill me or somebody else yet."

At intervals this strange being writes threatening letters to the warden, the governor and the state board of pardons, demanding his immediate release or a rehearing of his case. He wrote several letters to Governor McKinley before the governor retired from office. How he writes them, where he gets pencil and paper or who delivers the demon's communications, none knows. The warden finds them on his desk; they are left at the governor's office or are left with some member of the board of pardons, all by the same mysterious agency. Perhaps the criminal lunatics could talk, but they only gibe and jibber and point to Marlatt's cell, muttering, "Devil."

In answer to a particularly fierce letter recently, Warden E. G. Coffin talked with Marlatt, and endeavored to subdue him by kindness. Marlatt broke a long silence and said he wanted liberty and a chance to work. The warden directed a guard to open Marlatt's cell door. Marlatt seemed tranquil enough. The door was no sooner open than, with a yell of triumph, Marlatt sprang at the warden, knife in hand. The guard knocked him down, and after a fierce struggle, he was again forced into his cell, cursing and raging hidiously.

"He is certainly possessed of the devil," said the warden, shaking his head as he walked away. "Leave him alone."

HATTIE E. CURRY

Died This Morning After an Illness of a Year.

Miss Hattie E. Curry died last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of her parents in West End, after an illness from tuberculosis. She was aged 27 years, and for one year has been steadily declining in health, until seven weeks ago she was compelled to take her bed, from which she never arose. Miss Curry was beloved and respected by all who knew her, and for a number of years taught school at the Sixth street building, and upon the opening of the public library was appointed librarian, a position she accepted in the hope that she would eventually regain her health. The lady always took an active part in the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom, and was an earnest, consistent member of the First Presbyterian church. The funeral will take place from the late residence Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. W. E. Sloane officiating. Interment will be made at Riverview.

MR. HYRE'S HUMOR.

It Was Thoroughly Appreciated by a Large Audience.

The first number of the lecture course was passed through at the First M. E. church last evening, a splendid audience being present. The speaker, Alonzo Eugene Hyre, was introduced by Secretary Morris, who briefly reviewed other lecture courses, and promised entertainment this season. Mr. Hyre spoke for an hour and a half on "Etiquette Exposed," and his exposition was such as to bring many a hearty laugh from his hearers. "Maud Muller" and the scene with St. Peter were amusing. Mr. Hyre's lecture sparkled with wit, and was entertaining from start to finish.

MORE LIGHT

Is Wanted In Several Parts of the City.

Residents of Bank street want a light placed at the upper end of the street, and within the next few weeks council will be asked to have the work done. A similar request comes from Elm street, where a light has long been needed, and it will not be long until one will be wanted at the end of the bridge. There are other places where more light would be gladly welcomed, but the spots mentioned are the only requests being considered at present.

FOUND A BOA.

Engineer Bean Will Return It to the Owner.

When on his way to work this morning Engineer Bean, of the bridge, found a pocketbook and feather boa on Cook street. The purse contained a note bearing the signature of a well known theatrical man and informing some fair maid that he had not had a kiss for two days. He enclosed a ticket to some entertainment and hoped he would see her soon. The engineer will gladly return the property to the owner if she will call.

Attended a Funeral.

Rev. Charles O'Meara conducted services at a funeral in Pittsburg yesterday.

ENTRAPPED AN ENGINE

Then There Was a Tug For Supremacy.

THE ROPE EVENTUALLY BROKE

But Not Before a Telegraph Pole Had Been Snapped, a Brake Wheel Twisted Out of Shape, and the Locomotive Somewhat Damaged—A Peculiar Accident.

A heavy freight train and several hundred feet of rope made a dangerous combination near the new bridge this morning, and resulted in an accident the equal of which has probably never been known before.

The clocks were preparing to announce the hour of nine when one of the heavy lines, used in hoisting iron from the ground to the bridge, was hanging directly over the main track of the Cleveland and Pittsburg It was in the form of a loop, and was so innocent appearing that no one imagined it would cause danger or damage. The line was fastened to the drum of the hoisting engine on the Ohio abutment, and was just at that moment a most important part of the combination of ropes used by the bridge builders.

At the same time an extra freight came down the track. It was drawn by a powerful engine, and was made up of many loaded cars. The engineer saw the loop hanging over the track, and realizing his train was in danger, prepared for action. The shrill signal calling for brakes was the first intimation that he saw the danger, and workmen on the bridge knew something had gone wrong. The next instance the engine had rushed into the rope, the loop settled down over the smoke stack, and dropping farther, caught the iron horse about the boiler a short distance above the cow catcher. All the slack was taken up and the rope was taut in a minute. Brakemen ran over the cars setting brakes, and the engineer could be seen exerting his every effort to bring the train to a stand still. The engineer on the bridge saw the danger at a glance, and he began paying out the line. It went as fast as possible, and to his presence of mind can be laid the escape from death or injury of the trainmen. The rope sagged a very little, but the weight of the heavy train sent the engine forward and there was more danger.

There was consternation on the bridge. The rope was so closely connected with the tackle on the structure that there was great danger. John Greenlock and Harry Maine were in the car suspended between the Ohio pier and the river shore, and every moment seemed as though it would be their last. The trolley lashed wildly about, and the car plunged so that it was only with the greatest difficulty they could maintain their position. They hung frantically to the trolley, and succeeded, by the exercise of all their strength, in retaining their hold.

Meantime the engine was dashing down the track and the rope was following at all the speed. It was dragged over the top of the freight depot, and in some way was wrapped around a telegraph pole. It only took an instant to snap off that heavy pine stick as though it had been a dry weed. The top of the pole dropped to the ground in a tangle of wires, and narrowly escaped striking several persons who, attracted by the strange sight of a captive locomotive, were wondering what would next happen. The rope also caught on the brake wheel of a car standing at the depot. For a little while, a very little while, it seemed as though there would be a struggle, and the car would be tossed against the fast morning train, but that illusion was soon dispelled. The rope twisted the heavy arm so that it was no longer fit for the purpose for which it was originally intended, and that danger was averted.

These exhibitions had thoroughly frightened the people, who hurriedly collected, and they were prepared for almost anything when the engine gave a convulsive shudder, a big piece of steel was torn from its side, and the rope parted. With a crash like the report of a rifle it snapped as neatly as if it had been cut with a knife, one broken end writhing and twisting into Broadway like the lash of some mammoth whip. With the resisting influence gone the engine shot forward, and the train soon disappeared down the track.

The damage sustained by the engine will not amount to much, but the danger in which it was placed appeared as though it would be ditched. The rope can easily be repaired, and it will not take long to replace the broken telegraph pole and have the wires in their places. A fire alarm box went down in the wreck, and was fatally injured. No one was hurt, but persons in Broadway when the rope broke narrowly escaped being hit. The tackle on the bridge was disturbed and sometime was consumed before it could be repaired.

OVER 40 FEET.

W. R. Anderson Fell Off the Bridge This Afternoon.

W. R. Anderson, a Wellsville man employed on the bridge, was at work this afternoon when the line to which he was holding slipped. He fell a distance of forty feet to the river bank near the street car track, and was badly hurt. At first it was thought he was killed outright, but examination by a physician failed to find fatal injuries. He was taken in the patrol to his boarding house.

TO ORGANIZE TONIGHT.

The Naval Reserve Will Start With Flying Colors.

The naval reserve will be organized this evening at the armory, and from all indications the company bids fair to start with flying colors. A number of Wellsville boys have signified their intention of becoming members. The meeting tonight will be addressed by Charles Hickman, of Cleveland. The enrollment will be sent to Columbus at once, and a mustering officer will be sent here as soon afterward as possible.

MORE ATTACHMENTS.

That Piano Bids Fair to Become Popular.

The piano which Emil Pahner did not succeed in moving from his late quarters in the Midway bids fair to equal the famous cargo of nails discussed at such length last winter. J. W. Albright and John Hague appraised the instrument at $100, and Attorney Stevenson at once levied on it for a claim of $20. Constable Bertele served the papers, and the hearing was on the program of Squire Morley's court this afternoon.

NOT THIS WINTER

Will the Street Railway Be Built to the Line.

A resident who is in position to talk is positive the East Liverpool and Wellsville will not be extended to the city line as ordered at a recent meeting of council. The company have no money to spend in this direction, he said, and as council made no provision for funds when the order was made, he cannot see how the rule is to be enforced. The company, he thought, might do it some day, but not this winter.

PREFERRED LISBON.

A Dog Left Its New Master and Went Over the Hill.

Doctor Kinter several days ago purchased a valuable imported greyhound from a party in Lisbon. The animal seemed well pleased with its new home, but yesterday the doctor went to Pittsburg and upon his return the dog was not to be found. Thinking someone had stolen the animal search was at once instituted, and the discovery made that his dogship had returned to his former home.

DEFEAT IS COSTLY.

The Amount General Sherwood Put in the Campaign.

General I. R. Sherwood, Democratic candidate for congress, has filed his expense account as follows: Mahoning county committee, $100; Stark county committee, $175; Columbiana county committee, $100; Democrat Publishing company, for 20,000 pamphlets, $106; clerk hire for executive committee, $30; postage, $16.34; railroad fare and hotel bill, $37.80; making a total of $565.14.

TO AID THE PASTOR.

A New Association In the First M. E. Church.

An organization to be known as an aid to the pastor has been formed at the First M. E. church. The work of the society is to look after strangers in the city, and care for the afflicted and sick of the congregation. The city will be districted, and four ladies will have charge of each district. The organization has been placed in working order, and operations will begin at once.

FOUGHT FURIOUSLY.

Two Friends Fell Out and Did Battle.

A fight occurred in a Sixth street pool room last night, and lasted long enough to attract a great deal of attention. The principals were a pair of young men who had a difference, and determined to settle it right there. It was some time before they were parted and peace restored. Previous to the altercation they had been the best of friends.

—Charles Ray and wife, of Beaver, are visiting friends here.

DOUBLED ORIN'S BOND

Another Chapter In the Highway Robbery Case.

HE MIGHT HAVE LEFT TOWN

With Only $500 Between Him and Liberty. Strange Stories Went Over the Hills—He Was Locked Up Until Bondsmen Appeared.

Deputy John Wyman went to Lisbon this morning, taking with him James Orin, whose alleged connection with the Heckathorn gang has caused his presence at the county seat on other occasions.

Orin, it will be remembered, was arrested for the part he is charged with taking in the William's holdup, and released on $500 bail. The bond was not increased when the grand jury found an indictment, and Orin returned to this city. Recently the authorities became suspicious, and Deputy Wyman was notified to take Orin to Lisbon today. They had heard that he was preparing to leave the county, and would not be present when his case was called. The story said he had been telling his friends in Liverpool that he would not stay much longer. The object in taking him across the county was to have the bail fixed at a higher figure, and Orin locked up until the trial took place.

He was taken before Judge Smith this morning, and his bail increased to $1,000. As no one appeared to make a new bond he was removed to jail. The trial has not yet been assigned a date.

NOT JEANNETTE,

But the Best Men of the Pennsylvania League.

From statements made by members of the Jeannette football team to several of the Rovers, it is proved beyond doubt that the team which played here Monday was a pick of the best men in the Western Pennsylvania league. Manager McManus was assisted in getting together as strong an aggregation as could be found, for none of the league teams were willing to lose to East Liverpool, thinking it would bring discredit upon them. With the regular team of the Rovers in the field, it is safe to predict they would at least hold the picked eleven level, even if they did not beat them.

THEY WANT THEIR PAY.

Election Officers Are Sending In Their Bills.

Doctor Norris has been filing away the claims of election officers for receiving and counting the bond vote, and now has all but two on his list. Each asks $3 for the day's work, and all the bills will be discussed and acted upon at the regular meeting of the board next Monday. The question of paying the amount demanded has not yet disappeared from view, and while it is probable the board will settle without cutting the bills, it seems almost certain there will be more or less objection.

MUST USE METERS.

Another Move of the Ohio Valley Gas Company.

The gas company officials have notified the potteries that gas will be no longer used in kilns without first passing through a meter. The order becomes effective December 1, and will materially aid in driving gas from a number of plants. The only redeeming feature of the movement is the cheer it brings those consumers who have always argued that there would be enough for private houses after the potteries were cut off.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Light Committee and the Board of Improvement Meet.

The light committee and the board of improvement are scheduled for a joint meeting at city hall this evening, and everybody is hoping they will at least get together. The business is to discuss the best plan for lighting the city, and is so important that it should be attended to before the next meeting of council. They advertised for bids, the bids were received, and the local company presented the lowest rates.

A CLOSE CALL.

The Shot Whistled Uncomfortably Near a Hunter's Head.

A sportsman, who enjoys as much of the quail season as anyone in town, has had his fill this year, and says he will not go after birds for a long time. He was in the edge of a wood when he heard a noise, and the next instant shot began to strike objects all around him. A puff of smoke from down the creek showed him that someone was shooting his way. He was hit several times, but the hunter was so far away he was not hurt.

FOUND A BOA.

Engineer Bean Will Return It to the Owner.

When on his way to work this morning Engineer Bean, of the bridge, found a pocketbook and feather boa on Cook street. The purse contained a note bearing the signature of a well known theatrical man and informing some fair maid that he had not had a kiss for two days. He enclosed a ticket to some entertainment and hoped he would see her soon. The engineer will gladly return the property to the owner if she will call.

Attended a Funeral.

Rev. Charles O'Meara conducted services at a funeral in Pittsburg yesterday.

ENTRAPPED AN ENGINE

Then There Was a Tug For Supremacy.

THE ROPE EVENTUALLY BROKE

But Not Before a Telegraph Pole Had Been Snapped, a Brake Wheel Twisted Out of Shape, and the Locomotive Somewhat Damaged—A Peculiar Accident.

A heavy freight train and several hundred feet of rope made a dangerous combination near the new bridge this morning, and resulted in an accident the equal of which has probably never been known before.

The clocks were preparing to announce the hour of nine when one of the heavy lines, used in hoisting iron from the ground to the bridge, was hanging directly over the main track of the Cleveland and Pittsburg It was in the form of a loop, and was so innocent appearing that no one imagined it would cause danger or damage. The line was fastened to the drum of the hoisting engine on the Ohio abutment, and was just at that moment a most important part of the combination of ropes used by the bridge builders.

At the same time an extra freight came down the track. It was drawn by a powerful engine, and was made up of many loaded cars. The engineer saw the loop hanging over the track, and realizing his train was in danger, prepared for action. The shrill signal calling for brakes was the first intimation that he saw the danger, and workmen on the bridge knew something had gone wrong. The next instance the engine had rushed into the rope, the loop settled down over the smoke stack, and dropping farther, caught the iron horse about the boiler a short distance above the cow catcher. All the slack was taken up and the rope was taut in a minute. Brakemen ran over the cars setting brakes, and the engineer could be seen exerting his every effort to bring the train to a stand still. The engineer on the bridge saw the danger at a glance, and he began paying out the line. It went as fast as possible, and to his presence of mind can be laid the escape from death or injury of the trainmen. The rope sagged a very little, but the weight of the heavy train sent the engine forward and there was more danger.

There was consternation on the bridge. The rope was so closely connected with the tackle on the structure that there was great danger. John Greenlock and Harry Maine were in the car suspended between the Ohio pier and the river shore, and every moment seemed as though it would be their last. The trolley lashed wildly about, and the car plunged so that it was only with the greatest difficulty they could maintain their position. They hung frantically to the trolley, and succeeded, by the exercise of all their strength, in retaining their hold.

Meantime the engine was dashing down the track and the rope was following at all the speed. It was dragged over the top of the freight depot, and in some way was wrapped around a telegraph pole. It only took an instant to snap off that heavy pine stick as though it had been a dry weed. The top of the pole dropped to the ground in a tangle of wires, and narrowly escaped striking several persons who, attracted by the strange sight of a captive locomotive, were wondering what would next happen. The rope also caught on the brake wheel of a car standing at the depot. For a little while, a very little while, it seemed as though there would be a struggle, and the car would be tossed against the fast morning train, but that illusion was soon dispelled. The rope twisted the heavy arm so that it was no longer fit for the purpose for which it was originally intended, and that danger was averted.

These exhibitions had thoroughly frightened the people, who hurriedly collected, and they were prepared for almost anything when the engine gave a convulsive shudder, a big piece of steel was torn from its side, and the rope parted. With a crash like the report of a rifle it snapped as neatly as if it had been cut with a knife, one broken end writhing and twisting into Broadway like the lash of some mammoth whip. With the resisting influence gone the engine shot forward, and the train soon disappeared down the track.

The damage sustained by the engine will not amount to much, but the danger in which it was placed appeared as though it would be ditched. The rope can easily be repaired, and it will not take long to replace the broken telegraph pole and have the wires in their places. A fire alarm box went down in the wreck, and was fatally injured. No one was hurt, but persons in Broadway when the rope broke narrowly escaped being hit. The tackle on the bridge was disturbed and sometime was consumed before it could be repaired.

OVER 40 FEET.

W. R. Anderson Fell Off the Bridge This Afternoon.

W. R. Anderson, a Wellsville man employed on the bridge, was at work this afternoon when the line to which he was holding slipped. He fell a distance of forty feet to the river bank near the street car track, and was badly hurt. At first it was thought he was killed outright, but examination by a physician failed to find fatal injuries. He was taken in the patrol to his boarding house.

TO ORGANIZE TONIGHT.

The Naval Reserve Will Start With Flying Colors.

The naval reserve will be organized this evening at the armory, and from all indications the company bids fair to start with flying colors. A number of Wellsville boys have signified their intention of becoming members. The meeting tonight will be addressed by Charles Hickman, of Cleveland. The enrollment will be sent to Columbus at once, and a mustering officer will be sent here as soon afterward as possible.

MORE ATTACHMENTS.

That Piano Bids Fair to Become Popular.

The piano which Emil Pahner did not succeed in moving from his late quarters in the Midway bids fair to equal the famous cargo of nails discussed at such length last winter. J. W. Albright and John Hague appraised the instrument at $100, and Attorney Stevenson at once levied on it for a claim of $20. Constable Bertele served the papers, and the hearing was on the program of Squire Morley's court this afternoon.

NOT THIS WINTER

Will the Street Railway Be Built to the Line.

A resident who is in position to talk is positive the East Liverpool and Wellsville will not be extended to the city line as ordered at a recent meeting of council. The company have no money to spend in this direction, he said, and as council made no provision for funds when the order was made, he cannot see how the rule is to be enforced. The company, he thought, might do it some day, but not this winter.

PREFERRED LISBON.

A Dog Left Its New Master and Went Over the Hill.

Doctor Kinter several days ago purchased a valuable imported greyhound from a party in Lisbon. The animal seemed well pleased with its new home, but yesterday the doctor went to Pittsburg and upon his return the dog was not to be found. Thinking someone had stolen the animal search was at once instituted, and the discovery made that his dogship had returned to his former home.

DEFEAT IS COSTLY.

The Amount General Sherwood Put in the Campaign.

General I. R. Sherwood, Democratic candidate for congress, has filed his expense account as follows: Mahoning county committee, $100; Stark county committee, $175; Columbiana county committee, $100; Democrat Publishing company, for 20,000 pamphlets, $106; clerk hire for executive committee, $30; postage, $16.34; railroad fare and hotel bill, $37.80; making a total of $565.14.

TO AID THE PASTOR.

A New Association In the First M. E. Church.

An organization to be known as an aid to the pastor has been formed at the First M. E. church. The work of the society is to look after strangers in the city, and care for the afflicted and sick of the congregation. The city will be districted, and four ladies will have charge of each district. The organization has been placed in working order, and operations will begin at once.

FOUGHT FURIOUSLY.

Two Friends Fell Out and Did Battle.

A fight occurred in a Sixth street pool room last night, and lasted long enough to attract a great deal of attention. The principals were a pair of young men who had a difference, and determined to settle it right there. It was some time before they were parted and peace restored. Previous to the altercation they had been the best of friends.

DOUBLED ORIN'S BOND

Another Chapter In the Highway Robbery Case.

HE MIGHT HAVE LEFT TOWN

With Only $500 Between Him and Liberty. Strange Stories Went Over the Hills—He Was Locked Up Until Bondsmen Appeared.

Deputy John Wyman went to Lisbon this morning, taking with him James Orin, whose alleged connection with the Heckathorn gang has caused his presence at the county seat on other occasions.

Orin, it will be remembered, was arrested for the part he is charged with taking in the William's holdup, and released on $500 bail. The bond was not increased when the grand jury found an indictment, and Orin returned to this city. Recently the authorities became suspicious, and Deputy Wyman was notified to take Orin to Lisbon today. They had heard that he was preparing to leave the county, and would not be present when his case was called. The story said he had been telling his friends in Liverpool that he would not stay much longer. The object in taking him across the county was to have the bail fixed at a higher figure, and Orin locked up until the trial took place.

He was taken before Judge Smith this morning, and his bail increased to $1,000. As no one appeared to make a new bond he was removed to jail. The trial has not yet been assigned a date.

NOT JEANNETTE,

But the Best Men of the Pennsylvania League.

From statements made by members of the Jeannette football team to several of the Rovers, it is proved beyond doubt that the team which played here Monday was a pick of the best men in the Western Pennsylvania league. Manager McManus was assisted in getting together as strong an aggregation as could be found, for none of the league teams were willing to lose to East Liverpool, thinking it would bring discredit upon them. With the regular team of the Rovers in the field, it is safe to predict they would at least hold the picked eleven level, even if they did not beat them.

THEY WANT THEIR PAY.

Election Officers Are Sending In Their Bills.

Doctor Norris has been filing away the claims of election officers for receiving and counting the bond vote, and now has all but two on his list. Each asks $3 for the day's work, and all the bills will be discussed and acted upon at the regular meeting of the board next Monday. The question of paying the amount demanded has not yet disappeared from view, and while it is probable the board will settle without cutting the bills, it seems almost certain there will be more or less objection.

MUST USE METERS.

Another Move of the Ohio Valley Gas Company.

The gas company officials have notified the potteries that gas will be no longer used in kilns without first passing through a meter. The order becomes effective December 1, and will materially aid in driving gas from a number of plants. The only redeeming feature of the movement is the cheer it brings those consumers who have always argued that there would be enough for private houses after the potteries were cut off.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Light Committee and the Board of Improvement Meet.

The light committee and the board of improvement are scheduled for a joint meeting at city hall this evening, and everybody is hoping they will at least get together. The business is to discuss the best plan for lighting the city, and is so important that it should be attended to before the next meeting of council. They advertised for bids, the bids were received, and the local company presented the lowest rates.

A CLOSE CALL.

The Shot Whistled Uncomfortably Near a Hunter's Head.

A sportsman, who enjoys as much of the quail season as anyone in town, has had his fill this year, and says he will not go after birds for a long time. He was in the edge of a wood when he heard a noise, and the next instant shot began to strike objects all around him. A puff of smoke from down the creek showed him that someone was shooting his way. He was hit several times, but the hunter was so far away he was not hurt.

CLEVELAND has a horse show, and the Leader is as tickled as a small boy with a red wagon.

IF the increase in chartered companies is an indication, Ohio is already feeling the election of Major McKinley.

SENATOR PEFFER, one of the most picturesque of all the political freaks, wants a new party. He should have it.

OUR own Coxey has at last acknowledged that he does not look with favor on free silver. First desertion, Mr. Bryan.

IF the speeches he makes count for anything Mr. Bryan has no intention of making that shooting trip to the mountains a still hunt.

SPAIN is daily adding to its history of butchery and blood. Some day there will be no Spain from which to expect these exhibitions of barbarity.

SENATOR VEST is confident there will be no tariff legislation at the next session of congress, another example of where the wish is father to the thought.

SOME good men are being mentioned as excellent cabinet timber. But they should all be prepared for disappointment. President McKinley is not going to build a cabinet as big as the capitol.

THE majority of the millions who voted for McKinley cast at the same time a ballot for protection. It is therefore the duty of the Republican party to give that protection at the earliest possible moment.

LET congress place more restrictions on immigration; give us a tariff that will protect labor and capital; always keep the money as good as it is today, and America will have the requisites for prosperity.

PERHAPS the greatest exhibition of impudence in the history of the nation is at present being given by the Democratic press. With a gall monumental, it points to the Wilson bill, and gives that miserable old thing as the cause of approaching prosperity.

THOUSANDS of spindles in the cotton mills of the east have commenced to hum, and forces of workingmen and women are steadily increased. When these mills use more American wool such news as this will be glad tidings to the shepherds of Columbiana county.

THE WAR SCARE.

A few more weeks of this war scare, and the Washington correspondents will have covered themselves with all sorts of glory. Already the newspaper men of Europe, who have been fighting imaginary campaigns on paper for many years, are commencing to turn green with envy, and the operation will soon be completed if these wild tales from the capital are to be continued. They have covered the ground completely, and as far as possible have arrayed Uncle Sam against the great butcher of the south in a manner highly commendable if the facts were given. But that is where the young men seem to have fallen down. They neglected the facts. There may be a great deal of war talk in Washington and New York, there probably is, but that is scarcely reason sufficient for the exciting stories sent out day after day. This government is at present most conservative, and Grover Cleveland would be the last man to announce his intentions in a matter so important to the press. From this distance it seems as though the correspondents were having any amount of fun at the expense of their friends at home. There may be fear of hostilities within the next few months, but aspiring patriots can rest assured the time has not yet come when loading the old musket or cleaning the old saber is the proper action.

MR. BRYAN TO LECTURE.

He Will Receive More Salary Than If He Had Been Elected.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 18.—It has been definitely arranged that William J. Bryan is to take the lecture platform and his first address will be delivered at Atlanta early in December. His route, as far as at present been arranged, will be, after leaving Atlanta, Jacksonville, Savannah, Charleston, Augusta, Birmingham and New Orleans. After leaving the latter city Mr. Bryan will go through Texas, then on to California and Oregon, and will not reach the cities of the east before the latter part of February, 1897.

The man behind the enterprise is V. E. McBee of Norfolk, Va., the superintendent of the Seaboard Air Line and Alexander Comstock.

The terms of the agreement from a financial standpoint have not been made public, but it is reliably understood that the remuneration which Mr. Bryan is to receive will exceed the salary he would have received as president of the United States in the event of his election to that office.

Arrangements are already under way to have the delivery of Mr. Bryan's first lecture in Atlanta made the occasion of a great demonstration, which will be in the nature of a monster reception.

The lectures to be delivered by Mr. Bryan will be non-partisan in their character and will for the most part be upon governmental and social topics, as it is expressly stipulated in the contract that the tour shall have no political aspect or coloring.

DON'T CALL THEM "BRYAN."

The Nebraskan Urges That Clubs Be Called "Silver" or "Bimetallic."

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18.—Hon. William J. Bryan, in a statement printed in the Times, urges the formation of clubs to continue the fight for free silver during the next four years. To avoid jealousies that might arise he suggests that such clubs refrain from naming themselves for him, merely calling them a silver or a bimetallic club. "The cause," he adds, "is greater than any man, and will travel upon its own merits."

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 18.—Hon. William J. Bryan and his distinguished party of hunters from St. Louis were met here by an enthusiastic crowd, including many railroad shopmen, and before the party could make its way up town, Mr. Bryan was compelled to make a short speech in response to the demands of the shopmen. The party were finally escorted to the hotel by the crowd, which cheered the Nebraskan's name at every step. At the hotel balcony Mr. Bryan made another short speech. The party left for Chadwick, where they will be conveyed to the game preserves in Taney county.

HANNA VISITS M'KINLEY.

They and General Osborne Held a Conference—Mrs. McKinley Improving.

CANTON, O., Nov. 18.—National Chairman Hanna and Secretary General William Osborne, have had a long conference with President-elect McKinley. When a reporter asked Mr. Hanna if a cabinet would be announced soon, he simply said: "You must ask the major."

As Mr. Hanna was walking to the carriage for the train he was asked if he expected Major and Mrs. McKinley to go to Thomasville, Ga., to sojourn with him at his winter home. He said he would be mighty glad if they would do it, but again referred that subject to Mr. McKinley, who said he had heard nothing from Mr. Hanna on the matter. Mr. Hanna later returned to Cleveland.

WEYLER IN A BAD FIX.

Rebels Believed to Have Cut Him Off From Havana.

CAPTURED THREE GOOD TOWNS.

An Insurgent Army of 10,000 Men Marching to Besiege Puerto Principe—Gomez's Whereabouts Unknown—Likely to Bob Up In an Important Way.

HAVANA, Nov. 18.—No news, official or otherwise, is obtainable here concerning the movements of Antonio Maceo in the province of Pinar del Rio. No news from a Spanish force in the field, as a rule, means bad news and the insurgents are making the most of the situation by circulating reports of Spanish defeats. In truth, however, there seems to be ground for the belief that the Captain General has not met with the success he anticipated, and while he is reported to be moving along the northern part of Pinar del Rio, Antonio Maceo is said to be south of him and not far from the trocha, or military line, which would indicate the possibility of the insurgents turning the Spanish flank and making it difficult for the captain general to return to Havana. This, however, is conjecture, no news being allowed to leak out from the offices of the headquarters staff in the palace.

From a private source, it is said that Maceo, hitherto understood to be occupying positions between Candelaria and Artemisa, had moved south of the former town, going westward toward the mountains of Guane. Another rumor has it that he is pushing a strong force through the swamps south of the trocha. Both reports are given for what they are worth.

On the other hand, it is no longer denied that the insurgents have captured the two quite important towns of Cascorro and Guaimara, in Puerto Principe, as intimated some time ago in these dispatches, in spite of official denials to the contrary, and there is no doubt that an insurgent army of about 10,000 men is advancing upon the city of Puerto Principe, capital of the province of that name.

The exact whereabouts of Maximo Gomez is also apparently unknown here, the movements against Puerto Principe being conducted by Calixto Garcia, according to report, and the insurgents' friends here intimate that Maximo Gomez is certain to be heard from shortly, as he must create a diversion as near as possible to Havana, in order to prevent the dispatch of further reinforcements to the captain general, who, it is said, is receiving from Havana every man who can be spared from active duty about the fortifications.

The insurgents have also taken San Minguel.

WAR LIKELY ANY TIME.

Board of Fortifications Urges Big Appropriations For Coast Defense.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The work of placing our harbors in a state of defense is summed up in the report of the board of ordnance and fortifications, signed by General Miles, Colonels Frank and Haines, Major Phipps and ex-Congressman Outhwaite. It says:

"Under the increased appropriations of the present fiscal years, the work of placing our harbors in a proper state of defense is making good progress, and if only the same sums are appropriated annually for a few years our principal ports will present a formidable front to an attacking fleet. It is hoped, however, that even more liberal appropriations will be made in order that we may soon be ready for an emergency that may arise at any time. In view of the present serious aspect of European politics, it is only common prudence for this nation to be on its guard, for should a conflict arise we are liable to be embroiled with some power whose navy, in the present defenseless conditions of our coasts might destroy or exact enormous ransoms from our chief cities."

"A war, if it come at all, will come with no warning and no time for preparation. China, with undefended ports and an inadequate navy, was defeated in a few months. In the last war between the great military powers of Germany and France, the surrender at Sedan occurred only 40 days after the declaration of war. The wars of nations occur in circles of varying length, but seldom does a generation pass without a great conflict.

Already more than 30 years have elapsed since our last great war, and another may soon, if the past be a guide to the future, terminate one of the longest intervals of peace we have ever enjoyed. Our engineer department is ready with the most modern plans for fortifications and our ordnance department is prepared with designs for guns and carriages that are equal to any in the world. If congress will but increase the appropriations to the capacity of those departments for useful and economical work, it will not be long before our coasts are secure against the attack of foreign powers. An effective preparation for war is the best safeguard against war."

DERIDES THE WAR RUMORS.

The Spanish Minister Says Uncle Sam Is a Peaceable Gentlemen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The subject of hostilities between Spain and the United States, when mentioned to the Spanish minister, was met with a gesture of derision, and he declared it was sensationalism. He said that in this country there were jingoists who wanted to make Uncle Sam a great bully, whereas he was a peaceable and good-natured gentleman.

There were in Spain a class of jingoists who were of the same kind and who were always anxious to stir up trouble. He said that Spain's position was to take care of her own and defend herself, and that was what she was doing now.

The Spanish minister is well pleased with the success of the Spanish loan. He has received a cable message saying that more than $100,000,000 had been subscribed, which, he says, refutes the assertion that Spain is a poor and bankrupt nation unable longer to carry on the Cuban war.

ROASTED AN OLD MISER.

Burglars Tortured Him at Cleveland, but Got Nothing.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Three burglars broke into the house occupied by John Mirka, a miser, at 448 East Prospect street. Mirka is 72 years old.

Upon his refusal to tell the burglars where his money was hidden, he was beaten in a terrible manner. This punishment failing to force the information from the old man he was bound, gagged and a lamp flame applied to his feet until the flesh was literally cooked. The old man writhed in agony, but protested he had no money.

The fiends then applied the flame to the suffering man's hands and then to his body until he finally sank into unconsciousness, in which condition he was found. It is believed the burglars got nothing.

Fire From a Horse's Kick.

SABINA, O., Nov. 18.—The most disastrous fire ever known in Sabina has occurred. The livery stable of Wilson & Zimmerman took fire by the explosian of a lamp kicked over by a horse. The flames spread to the barn and shed of Martin Kennedy, the barn of Mrs. Isaac Roleerdz, the two barns of P. J. Curren and the steam flour mill of W. K. Greely. Citizens aided the fire department. Favorable winds saved the town from destruction.

Claim 7,000,000 Acres.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Nov. 18.—C. B. Holloway of Holland, O., and O. U. Gunn of Maumee have arrived in the city to secure certified copies of a deed which, it is claimed, will establish their title to a vast tract of 7,000,000 acres of land on the northwest. On this land is located the citis of St. Paul and Minneapolis and also 11 smaller towns.

Youngstown Mills Start.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 18.—A number of the mills have started and the city resembles its old time activity. Nos. 1 and 4 puddle mills, Williams' bar mill, the three bar mills, 12-inch, the hoop, guide and sheet mills all are operating at the Brown-Bonnell Iron company and expect to keep going for some time.

Cleveland Horse Show.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—The Cleveland horse show opened last evening at Central armory in the presence of an audience of 2,000 persons, representing the wealth, fashion and beauty of the city. The success of the show is assured at the start, and the horses exhibited are among the best in their classes.

Physicans to Be Arrested.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Forty of the 700 physicians of Cleveland have failed to comply with the Mosgrove act, which requires them to obtain certificates from the state medical board upon showing their diplomas. The state board has requested the county prosecutor to proceed against them.

Old Glove Cost a Hand.

BUCYRUS, O., Nov. 18.—Jacob Craner was running a cornhusking machine on his farm. He had on a pair of ragged gloves, and some of the rags became caught in the cogs of the machine, drawing his hand into it. The whole hand was cut off.

Bellaire Miners Out.

BELLAIRE, O., Nov. 17.—The Belmont coal mines are closed. The miners want their old wages, 61 cents, restored. They will not return to work at the reduction.

Building a Big Plant.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—The Cleveland Steel company of this city, owned by the Rockefellers, is erecting a big crucible steel plant, and will manufacture that article on a large scale.

LIQUOR TO BE BARRED

From the White House by the Next President.

THE W. C. T. U. SENDS THANKS.

Miss Willard and the Old Officers Re-Elected at the St. Louis Convention. Resolution Against the Woman's Bible. Greeting to Jewish Women.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.—The W. C. T. U. convention has re-elected these officers: President, Francis E. Willard, Illinois; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Katharine Lente Stevenson, Massachusetts; recording secretary, Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman, Missouri; treasurer, Mrs. Helen M. Barker, Illinois.

Miss Willard reappointed Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens of Maine vice president-at-large and the appointment was ratified by the convention, as was that of Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp of Kentucky, as assistant recording secretary.

It was announced that Georgia had won, for having the largest delegation present, the prize of a visit by Miss Willard to its annual state convention.

The report of the executive committee was adopted with slight changes. It provides that the field fund be placed in the hands of the superintendent of organization, to be used for field work and organization under the direction of the superintendent of organization and general officers; that state presidents and national superintendents shall not be listed as national organizers; that the matter of an appropriation for the national organization be referred to the superintendents of organizations in conjunction with the other general officers, and recommends that the Loyal Temperance Legion be made a branch department on the payment of the usual dues, with a superintendent and general secretary.

The following resolution was adopted without much debate:

Resolved, That, while we recognize the right of women to make commentaries on the Bible, as men have done from the beginning until now, we regret that the name "Woman's Bible" has been given to any volume, and we further deplore the misapprehension of the press, secular and religious, in styling this commentary on those parts of the Bible only relating to women as "a new version of the Scriptures."

We further disclaim any connection whatever of our society or of our national president with this work.

The final report of the credentials committee shows that 45 states are represented in the convention, with 395 delegates and officers, consisting of all the general officers, many of the department superintendents, vice presidents, state officers, national organizers and evangelists and editors of state papers, etc.

A delegate announced that it was reported that the house in Washington, in which Abraham Lincoln died, was to be turned into a saloon. This caused a flutter of excitement and a protest from many present. As a result a resolution was adopted memorializing congress to take the necessary action to prevent it.

The following was sent to the national council of Jewish Women:

"The Woman's Christian Temperance union in convention here assembled send you cordial greetings. We are workers together for God and humanity."

An appropriate fraternal reply was received.

Superintendents of the various departments were elected. Mrs. Frances W. Leiter, Ohio, heads the physical culture department; Mrs. Mary T. Lovell, Pennsylvania, mercy; Mrs. Rebecca Chambers, Pennsylvania, state and county fairs; Mrs. S. L. Oberholtzer, Pennsylvania, school savings banks.

Miss Frances J. Barnes, New York, was re-elected general secretary young woman's banch.

Mrs. Fessenden, state president of Massachusetts, moved that a letter of thanks be sent to Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley for their intention not to let a drop of liquor enter the White House during their occupancy of it.

Miss Willard vouched for Mr. McKinley being a teetotaler, and the convention decided to instruct the corresponding secretary to send the letter to Mr. and Mrs. McKinley.

The Jewish Women's Convention.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Promptly at the appointed hour, the third session of the first annual convention of the national council of Jewish Women opened, with Mrs. Hannah G. Solomon in the chair, and a goodly attendance of delegates and visitors. The session was given over to three of the more important standing committees, reports from which were read by their chairmen.

KING OSCAR OUR FRIEND.

He Erects a Monument Where Americans Were Killed Near Bergen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—King Oscar II of Sweden and Norway has given further evidence of his kindly feeling to Americans by erecting a granite monument on the spot where Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Youmans of New York city, met their death on July 4 last. The circumstances of King Oscar's graceful act are reported to the state department with photographs of the monuments erected by him. Mr. Youmans and his wife while driving along a road near Bergen were backed off a a declivity and killed.

Consul Many writes that when the king passed the point soon afterward he placed a beautiful boquet on the wooden cross marking the spot, and directed the chief official of the district to replace the wooden cross with a granite monument. VEST ON TARIFF PROSPECTS.

He Says the Dingley Bill Won't Pass. Silver's Chances.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Senator Vest of Missouri expresses the opinion that it will be impossible for the Republicans to pass the Dingley bill or any other tariff bill through the senate at the forthcoming session.

"I have no doubt," he said, "that the Republican senators who voted with the Democrats at the last session against the consideration of the Dingley bill, with the possible exception of Carter, stand with us again, and if they do, there is no possibility of passing the bill."

"Suppose the gold Democrats desert you?"

"I do not consider that possible. They are no more protectionists than are the silver Democrats."

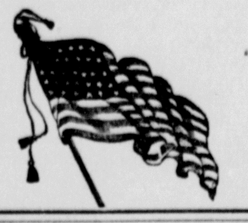
EAST LIVERPOOL O., WEDNESDAY, NOV. 18



All the news in the NEWS REVIEW.

CLEVELAND has a horse show, and the Leader is as tickled as a small boy with a red wagon.

IF the increase in chartered companies is an indication, Ohio is already feeling the election of Major McKinley.

SENATOR PEFFER, one of the most picturesque of all the political freaks, wants a new party. He should have it.

OUR own Coxey has at last acknowledged that he does not look with favor on free silver. First desertion, Mr. Bryan.

IF the speeches he makes count for anything Mr. Bryan has no intention of making that shooting trip to the mountains a still hunt.

SPAIN is daily adding to its history of butchery and blood. Some day there will be no Spain from which to expect these exhibitions of barbarity.

SENATOR VEST is confident there will be no tariff legislation at the next session of congress, another example of where the wish is father to the thought.

SOME good men are being mentioned as excellent cabinet timber. But they should all be prepared for disappointment. President McKinley is not going to build a cabinet as big as the capitol.

THE majority of the millions who voted for McKinley cast at the same time a ballot for protection. It is therefore the duty of the Republican party to give that protection at the earliest possible moment.

LET congress place more restrictions on immigration; give us a tariff that will protect labor and capital; always keep the money as good as it is today, and America will have the requisites for prosperity.

PERHAPS the greatest exhibition of impudence in the history of the nation is at present being given by the Democratic press. With a gall monumental, it points to the Wilson bill, and gives that miserable old thing as the cause of approaching prosperity.

THOUSANDS of spindles in the cotton mills of the east have commenced to hum, and forces of workingmen and women are steadily increased. When these mills use more American wool such news as this will be glad tidings to the shepherds of Columbiana county.

THE WAR SCARE.

A few more weeks of this war scare, and the Washington correspondents will have covered themselves with all sorts of glory. Already the newspaper men of Europe, who have been fighting imaginary campaigns on paper for many years, are commencing to turn green with envy, and the operation will soon be completed if these wild tales from the capital are to be continued. They have covered the ground completely, and as far as possible have arrayed Uncle Sam against the great butcher of the south in a manner highly commendable if the facts were given. But that is where the young men seem to have fallen down. They neglected the facts. There may be a great deal of war talk in Washington and New York, there probably is, but that is scarcely reason sufficient for the exciting stories sent out day after day. This government is at present most conservative, and Grover Cleveland would be the last man to announce his intentions in a matter so important to the press. From this distance it seems as though the correspondents were having any amount of fun at the expense of their friends at home. There may be fear of hostilities within the next few months, but aspiring patriots can rest assured the time has not yet come when loading the old musket or cleaning the old saber is the proper action.

MR. BRYAN TO LECTURE.

He Will Receive More Salary Than If He Had Been Elected.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 18.—It has been definitely arranged that William J. Bryan is to take the lecture platform and his first address will be delivered at Atlanta early in December. His route, as far as at present been arranged, will be, after leaving Atlanta, Jacksonville, Savannah, Charleston, Augusta, Birmingham and New Orleans. After leaving the latter city Mr. Bryan will go through Texas, then on to California and Oregon, and will not reach the cities of the east before the latter part of February, 1897.

The man behind the enterprise is V. E. McBee of Norfolk, Va., the superintendent of the Seaboard Air Line and Alexander Comstock.

The terms of the agreement from a financial standpoint have not been made public, but it is reliably understood that the remuneration which Mr. Bryan is to receive will exceed the salary he would have received as president of the United States in the event of his election to that office.

Arrangements are already under way to have the delivery of Mr. Bryan's first lecture in Atlanta made the occasion of a great demonstration, which will be in the nature of a monster reception.

The lectures to be delivered by Mr. Bryan will be non-partisan in their character and will for the most part be upon governmental and social topics, as it is expressly stipulated in the contract that the tour shall have no political aspect or coloring.

DON'T CALL THEM "BRYAN."

The Nebraskan Urges That Clubs Be Called "Silver" or "Bimetallic."

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18.—Hon. William J. Bryan, in a statement printed in The Times, urges the formation of clubs to continue the fight for free silver during the next four years. To avoid jealousies that might arise he suggests that such clubs refrain from naming themselves for him, merely calling them a silver or a bimetallic club. "The cause," he adds, "is greater than any man, and will travel upon its own merits."

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 18.—Hon. William J. Bryan and his distinguished party of hunters from St. Louis were met here by an enthusiastic crowd, including many railroad shopmen, and before the party could make its way up town, Mr. Bryan was compelled to make a short speech in response to the demands of the shopmen. The party were finally escorted to the hotel by the crowd, which cheered the Nebraskan's name at every step. At the hotel balcony Mr. Bryan made another short speech. The party left for Chadwick, where they will be conveyed to the game preserves in Taney county.

HANNA VISITS M'KINLEY.

They and General Osborne Held a Conference—Mrs. McKinley Improving.

CANTON, O., Nov. 18.—National Chairman Hanna and Secretary General William Osborne, have had a long conference with President-elect McKinley. When a reporter asked Mr. Hanna if a cabinet would be announced soon, he simply said: "You must ask the major."

As Mr. Hanna was walking to the carriage for the train he was asked if he expected Major and Mrs. McKinley to go to Thomasville, Ga., to sojourn with him at his winter home. He said he would be mighty glad if they would do it, but again referred that subject to Mr. McKinley, who said he had heard nothing from Mr. Hanna on the matter. Mr. Hanna later returned to Cleveland.

WEYLER IN A BAD FIX.

Rebels Believed to Have Cut Him Off From Havana.

CAPTURED THREE GOOD TOWNS.

An Insurgent Army of 10,000 Men Marching to Besiege Puerto Principe—Gomez's Whereabouts Unknown—Likely to Bob Up In an Important Way.

HAVANA, Nov. 18.—No news, official or otherwise, is obtainable here concerning the movements of Antonio Maceo in the province of Pinar del Rio. No news from a Spanish force in the field, as a rule, means bad news and the insurgents are making the most of the situation by circulating reports of Spanish defeats. In truth, however, there seems to be ground for the belief that the Captain General has not met with the success he anticipated, and while he is reported to be moving along the northern part of Pinar del Rio, Antonio Maceo is said to be south of him and not far from the trocha, or military line, which would indicate the possibility of the insurgents turning the Spanish flank and making it difficult for the captain general to return to Havana. This, however, is conjecture, no news being allowed to leak out from the offices of the headquarters staff in the palace.

From a private source, it is said that Maceo, hitherto understood to be occupying positions between Candelaria and Artemisa, had moved south of the former town, going westward toward the mountains of Guane. Another rumor has it that he is pushing a strong force through the swamps south of the trocha. Both reports are given for what they are worth.

On the other hand, it is no longer denied that the insurgents have captured the two quite important towns of Cascorro and Guaimara, in Puerto Principe, as intimated some time ago in these dispatches, in spite of official denials to the contrary, and there is no doubt that an insurgent army of about 10,000 men is advancing upon the city of Puerto Principe, capital of the province of that name.

The exact whereabouts of Maximo Gomez is also apparently unknown here, the movements against Puerto Principe being conducted by Calixto Garcia, according to report, and the insurgents' friends here intimate that Maximo Gomez is certain to be heard from shortly, as he must create a diversion as near as possible to Havana, in order to prevent the dispatch of further reinforcements to the captain general, who, it is said, is receiving from Havana every man who can be spared from active duty about the fortifications.

The insurgents have also taken San Minguel.

WAR LIKELY ANY TIME.

Board of Fortifications Urges Big Appropriations For Coast Defense.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The work of placing our harbors in a state of defense is summed up in the report of the board of ordnance and fortifications, signed by General Miles, Colonels Frank and Haines, Major Phipps and ex-Congressman Outhwaite. It says:

"Under the increased appropriations of the present fiscal years, the work of placing our harbors in a proper state of defense is making good progress, and if only the same sums are appropriated annually for a few years our principal ports will present a formidable front to an attacking fleet. It is hoped, however, that even more liberal appropriations will be made in order that we may soon be ready for an emergency that may arise at any time. In view of the present serious aspect of European politics, it is only common prudence for this nation to be on its guard, for should a conflict arise we are liable to be embroiled with some power whose navy, in the present defenseless conditions of our coasts might destroy or exact enormous ransoms from our chief cities."

"A war, if it come at all, will come with no warning and no time for preparation. China, with undefended ports and an inadequate navy, was defeated in a few months. In the last war between the great military powers of Germany and France, the surrender at Sedan occurred only 40 days after the declaration of war. The wars of nations occur in circles of varying length, but seldom does a generation pass without a great conflict.

Already more than 30 years have elapsed since our last great war, and another may soon, if the past be a guide to the future, terminate one of the longest intervals of peace we have ever enjoyed. Our engineer department is ready with the most modern plans for fortifications and our ordnance department is prepared with designs for guns and carriages that are equal to any in the world. If congress will but increase the appropriations to the capacity of those departments for useful and economical work, it will not be long before our coasts are secure against the attack of foreign powers. An effective preparation for war is the best safeguard against war."

DERIDES THE WAR RUMORS.

The Spanish Minister Says Uncle Sam Is a Peaceable Gentlemen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The subject of hostilities between Spain and the United States, when mentioned to the Spanish minister, was met with a gesture of derision, and he declared it was sensationalism. He said that in this country there were jingoists who wanted to make Uncle Sam a great bully, whereas he was a peaceable and good-natured gentleman.

There were in Spain a class of jingoists who were of the same kind and who were always anxious to stir up trouble. He said that Spain's position was to take care of her own and defend herself, and that was what she was doing now.

The Spanish minister is well pleased with the success of the Spanish loan. He has received a cable message saying that more than $100,000,000 had been subscribed, which, he says, refutes the assertion that Spain is a poor and bankrupt nation unable longer to carry on the Cuban war.

ROASTED AN OLD MISER.

Burglars Tortured Him at Cleveland, but Got Nothing.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Three burglars broke into the house occupied by John Mirka, a miser, at 448 East Prospect street. Mirka is 72 years old.

Upon his refusal to tell the burglars where his money was hidden, he was beaten in a terrible manner. This punishment failing to force the information from the old man he was bound, gagged and a lamp flame applied to his feet until the flesh was literally cooked. The old man writhed in agony, but protested he had no money.

The fiends then applied the flame to the suffering man's hands and then to his body until he finally sank into unconsciousness, in which condition he was found. It is believed the burglars got nothing.

Fire From a Horse's Kick.

SABINA, O., Nov. 18.—The most disastrous fire ever known in Sabina has occurred. The livery stable of Wilson & Zimmerman took fire by the explosian of a lamp kicked over by a horse. The flames spread to the barn and shed of Martin Kennedy, the barn of Mrs. Isaac Roleerdz, the two barns of P. J. Curren and the steam flour mill of W. K. Greely. Citizens aided the fire department. Favorable winds saved the town from destruction.

On this land is located the citis of St. Paul and Minneapolis and also 11 smaller towns.

Youngstown Mills Start.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 18.—A number of the mills have started and the city resembles its old time activity. Nos. 1 and 4 puddle mills, Williams' bar mill, the three bar mills, 12-inch, the hoop, guide and sheet mills all are operating at the Brown-Bonnell Iron company and expect to keep going for some time.

Cleveland Horse Show.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—The Cleveland horse show opened last evening at Central armory in the presence of an audience of 2,000 persons, representing the wealth, fashion and beauty of the city. The success of the show is assured at the start, and the horses exhibited are among the best in their classes.

BUCYRUS, O., Nov. 18.—Jacob Craner was running a cornhusking machine on his farm. He had on a pair of ragged gloves, and some of the rags became caught in the cogs of the machine, drawing his hand into it. The whole hand was cut off.

LIQUOR TO BE BARRED

From the White House by the Next President.

THE W. C. T. U. SENDS THANKS.

Miss Willard and the Old Officers Re-Elected at the St. Louis Convention. Resolution Against the Woman's Bible. Greeting to Jewish Women.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.—The W. C. T. U. convention has re-elected these officers: President, Francis E. Willard, Illinois; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Katharine Lente Stevenson, Massachusetts; recording secretary, Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman, Missouri; treasurer, Mrs. Helen M. Barker, Illinois.

Miss Willard reappointed Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens of Maine vice president-at-large and the appointment was ratified by the convention, as was that of Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp of Kentucky, as assistant recording secretary.

It was announced that Georgia had won, for having the largest delegation present, the prize of a visit by Miss Willard to its annual state convention.

The report of the executive committee was adopted with slight changes. It provides that the field fund be placed in the hands of the superintendent of organization, to be used for field work and organization under the direction of the superintendent of organization and general officers; that state presidents and national superintendents shall not be listed as national organizers; that the matter of an appropriation for the national organization be referred to the superintendents of organizations in conjunction with the other general officers, and recommends that the Loyal Temperance Legion be made a branch department on the payment of the usual dues, with a superintendent and general secretary.

The following resolution was adopted without much debate:

Resolved, That, while we recognize the right of women to make commentaries on the Bible, as men have done from the beginning until now, we regret that the name "Woman's Bible" has been given to any volume, and we further deplore the misapprehension of the press, secular and religious, in styling this commentary on those parts of the Bible only relating to women as "a new version of the Scriptures."

We further disclaim any connection whatever of our society or of our national president with this work.

The final report of the credentials committee shows that 45 states are represented in the convention, with 395 delegates and officers, consisting of all the general officers, many of the department superintendents, vice presidents, state officers, national organizers and evangelists and editors of state papers, etc.

A delegate announced that it was reported that the house in Washington, in which Abraham Lincoln died, was to be turned into a saloon. This caused a flutter of excitement and a protest from many present. As a result a resolution was adopted memorializing congress to take the necessary action to prevent it.

The following was sent to the national council of Jewish Women:

"The Woman's Christian Temperance union in convention here assembled send you cordial greetings. We are workers together for God and humanity."

An appropriate fraternal reply was received.

Superintendents of the various departments were elected. Mrs. Frances W. Leiter, Ohio, heads the physical culture department; Mrs. Mary T. Lovell, Pennsylvania, mercy; Mrs. Rebecca Chambers, Pennsylvania, state and county fairs; Mrs. S. L. Oberholtzer, Pennsylvania, school savings banks.

Miss Frances J. Barnes, New York, was re-elected general secretary young woman's banch.

Mrs. Fessenden, state president of Massachusetts, moved that a letter of thanks be sent to Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley for their intention not to let a drop of liquor enter the White House during their occupancy of it.

Miss Willard vouched for Mr. McKinley being a teetotaler, and the convention decided to instruct the corresponding secretary to send the letter to Mr. and Mrs. McKinley.

The Jewish Women's Convention.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Promptly at the appointed hour, the third session of the first annual convention of the national council of Jewish Women opened, with Mrs. Hannah G. Solomon in the chair, and a goodly attendance of delegates and visitors. The session was given over to three of the more important standing committees, reports from which were read by their chairmen.

KING OSCAR OUR FRIEND.

He Erects a Monument Where Americans Were Killed Near Bergen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—King Oscar II of Sweden and Norway has given further evidence of his kindly feeling to Americans by erecting a granite monument on the spot where Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Youmans of New York city, met their death on July 4 last. The circumstances of King Oscar's graceful act are reported to the state department with photographs of the monuments erected by him. Mr. Youmans and his wife while driving along a road near Bergen were backed off a a declivity and killed.

Consul Many writes that when the king passed the point soon afterward he placed a beautiful boquet on the wooden cross marking the spot, and directed the chief official of the district to replace the wooden cross with a granite monument. THE PIONEER WILL PAY

But Not Until Judge Robinson Has Decided.

A THOUSAND DOLLARS INVOLVED

They Gave Notes to Put the Business of the Concern on a Good Basis, and Two Were Given the Man Who Placed Them. Disputed.

LISBON, Nov. 18.—[Special]—One of the most complicated cases on the calendar is that of Stevenson & Co. against the Pioneer, of Wellsville, which has been tried to Judge Robinson on the answer and cross petition of William H. Gaylord, of Cleveland, who seeks to recover on two notes held by him, and to which the defendant questions his right of possession.

In July three years ago the directors of the pottery voted to issue bonds in the sum of $52,000 for the purpose of paying off their indebtedness. They were issued and delivered to Julius Lembeck, who was to place them with the First National banks of Ravenna and Wellsville, and the City National of Canton. With the knowledge and consent of Treasurer H. S. Lewis only, Lembeck reserved two of the notes of $500 each as his compensation, which he transferred to Gaylord. When the notes were presented for payment the company refused to acknowledge his right, and consequently the cross petition was filed by him to the suit then pending in which Stevenson & Co., were plaintiffs. Judge Robinson will probably render a decision some time this week.

IN WELLSVILLE.

What Our Neighbors Down the River Are Doing.

Conductor Pat Duffy attended a cake walk in Bellaire last night, and because he was there in the capacity of judge, his friends are pleased to think that he covered himself with glory. It was an important affair, a gold watch and a lady's ring being among the prizes.

Samuel Pollock and wife, of Allegheny, former residents of Wellsville, are in town calling on friends. Mr. Pollock owns considerable real estate in this place.

Martin Tobin, a conductor, who has been very ill with malaria, is recovering.

Patrick Connor, of Center street, was stricken with paralysis, and is almost helpless.

A case of diphtheria is reported in town.

Miss Ester Iddings, of Hammondsville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Parsons, Tenth street.

Miss Kate Dowling, well known in this city, is suffering from catarrhal fever, and is very low.

Harry Watson, who has not been seen on the driver's box of the Lisbon hack for some time, has again taken up his position.

Miss Collie Clark is home from a visit with friends in Cleveland.

Dr. Fred Crawford of Cleveland was yesterday the guest of Doctor Robinson.

Mrs. Fawcett, of Nevada street, returned home yesterday after a prolonged visit in Belmont county.

NO RELIEF

For Residents Who Want a Useless Horse Killed.

A resident of Avondale street this morning called on Humane Agent Lloyd, and stated there was a horse running about the street that no one seemed to own, and as it had been there for several days it was thought best to notify the authorities. Agent Lloyd is unable to furnish any relief from the fact that he can secure no burying ground for the animal unless he pays for it, and as there is not a cent in the treasury of the Humane society, he does not feel like paying it out of his own pocket, inasmuch as almost all the work he has done the past year has been gratuitous. An effort will be made to find the owner of the animal, and if it is successful he will not only have to pay for its burial, but will be arrested and compelled to answer a charge of cruelty to animals.

ONLY A GOOSE,

But It is Causing Some People No End of Trouble.

A common every day goose is the bone of contention in a case being argued before Squire Morley this afternoon. W. H. McLean claims that a goose now in possession of Elsie Vandine, of West End, is his property, and alleges it was stolen from him. McLean prefered a charge of larceny against Vandine, and he was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Bertele. Vandine procured bail, and was released. He asserts he did not purloin the goose but found it wandering at large. There are many witnesses.

ANOTHER CHARGE

Because Parents Do Not Send Their Children to School.

Truant Officer Beardmore is determined that all parents must compel their children to attend school or suffer the consequences. Today a complaint was made before the mayor against Samuel Buzzard, whose son Newell has been absent from school for some time. About a year ago the lad was sent to Fairmount home for refusing to go to school, but recently he was permitted to return to the home of his father.

BLOOD POISON.

It Has Made Mrs. R. F. Bradley Very Ill.

Not long ago Mrs. R. F. Bradley, of May street, sustained a long cut in her wrist by falling on a broken dish. Before the wound healed blood poison appeared, and her arm swelled to an enormous size. Mrs. Bradley has lost the use of her arm, and it is feared serious results will follow. She suffers great pain.

Closed the Library.

The public library will be closed all of Friday because of the funeral of Miss Hattie Curry.

JOHN HUGHES FORGOT

But the East Liverpool Pottery Did Not.

TOO MUCH MONEY WAS PAID

To an Employe Who Promised but Neglected to Return It—An Arrest Brought the Affair to an End This Afternoon.

Constable Lyon this afternoon arrested John A. Hughes on a charge of theft entered before Squire Rose by John W. Hall.

The young man until recently was employed by the East Liverpool Pottery company, and in paying wages one Saturday evening he was by mistake given $17.25, just $10.25 more than was due him. The mistake was soon noticed, and the attention of the young man was called to the fact. He promised to rectify it at once, but he failed to do it. The mayor was then notified, and at once sent an officer after Hughes. The company did not wish to bring action against him, and upon his promise to return the amount he was permitted to go. Again he forgot all about the matter, and after waiting for several days the above action was brought against him. The theft comes under the head of larceny, and would mean a serious thing should the charge be pushed, but it will be dropped in case the money is forthcoming, as Mr. Hall has no desire to have him sent to jail. The case is at present pending a settlement.

THROUGH A WINDOW

Fell R. B. Watson at His Sixth Street Building.

R. B. Watson met with an accident this afternoon which might have been serious. Mounted on a ladder placed on the frame awning in front of his place of business, he was taking down the canvas over the upstairs windows when the ladder slipped. Mr. Watson was thrown forward, and his hands going through the glass were severely cut.

NEXT SATURDAY

The Family of Henry Ivers Will Be Allowed to Go.

The house occupied by Henry Ivers and family on Cadmus street has been fumigated, and the people will be allowed to do as they please after next Saturday. The Ivers family have had the worst experience of the diphtheria epidemic, four members having been ill. Two of them died, and the family have been quarantined for the best part of six weeks.

The Dreaded Germ.

At the British association Dr. Kanthack, who speaks with great authority on the subject, read a paper on "Bacteria In Food," in which he pointed out that one might swallow any amount of micro-organisms with food without any injury. Milk ordinarily contains about a million germs per cubic centimeter, in sandwiches they are too numerous to count, oysters teem with them, and ices from a fashionable confectioner's were found to contain from 10,000,000 to 14,000,000, or considerably more than the much abused Italian street vender's wares. There is not the least doubt in the world that we eat, drink and breathe any quantity of germs without suffering in the smallest degree, day by day, unless the germ happen to be of a particular sort and to meet with a suitable soil. All the "scientific" fuss about the necessity of boiling this and sterilizing that in order to kill the germs is a piece of unscientific babble founded upon a set of theoretic assumptions which take no account of actual everyday facts. Of course the bacteriologists will not admit their mistake without a struggle, and Dr. Kanthack met with a good deal of criticism. Nevertheless he is right, and one of these days every one will be saying the same thing.—St. James Gazette.

A Pair of Owls.

"Chubby Kratz" was presented at the Grand last evening to a fair audience by the Rentfrew Comedy company. The play was fully up to the standard, and was presented in a very creditable manner. Tonight "A Pair of Owls" will be played.

No More Pain.

The bullet in the arm of Edward Marion, who accidently shot himself while cleaning a revolver Sunday, has not been located. The wound has ceased to give its owner pain.

Broke a Shaft.

The towboat Cruiser went up yesterday with a broken shaft. The accident happened at Madison, Ind. The Mariner went down last night. It will bring up the tow of the Cruiser.

Meet Tonight.

Trades council will meet in regular session this evening. The semi-annual election of officers will take place, and several other important matters will be thoroughly discussed.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—T. J. Barnes is a Pittsburg visitor today.

—Charles Hickman, of Cleveland, is visiting friends in the city.

—Mrs. A. J. Cartwright and Miss Mollie Sheal left this afternoon to visit friends in Alliance.

THE WOOD.

Witch hazel, dogwood and the maple here,
And there the oak and hickory,
Linn, poplar and the beech tree far and near
As the eased eye can see.

Wild ginger, wahoo, with its roan balloon,
And brakes of briers of a twilight green,
And fox grapes plumed with summer, and strung moons
Of mandrake flower between.

Deep gold green ferns and mosses red and gray—
Mats for what naked myth's white feet—
And cool and calm a cascade far away,
With ever falling beat.

Old logs made sweet with death, rough bits of bark,
And tangled twig and knotted root,
And sunshine splashes, and great pools of dark,
And many a wild bird's flute.

Here let me sit until the Indian dusk
With copper colored feet comes down,
Sowing the wildwood with star firs and musk
And shadows blue and brown.

Then side by side with some magician dream
To take the owlet haunted lane,
Half roofed with vines, led by a firefly gleam,
That brings me home again.

—Madison Cawein in "Undertones."

HERALDRY.

One View of the Shorthand of History and Chronology.

Heraldry can make the world a glorified world. It is a quarry where every one may hew and a sea where every one may dip his oar, and if heraldry became again a fine art she could be once more the bride of history, while art with her tumult of enthusiasm alone can deck her fittingly. Without art heraldry is an uncouth and dead thing; with art she liveth for every one and is truly a science.

Heraldry creates intelligent curiosity and stimulates historic imagination. She awakens interest in generations gone by and should be taught, says Mr. Ruskin, to the young men and maidens of the street and lane, for heraldry helps to decipher the forgotten handwriting on the wall and the glorious record of our ancestors' doings and strivings and progress and upward climbing in the long crusade against tyranny and slavery and ignorance and intolerance.

That heraldry is the shorthand of history and chronology seems to be now allowed, and heraldry, in a sense, should be the application of the fine arts of sculpture and painting to family history. It is the silent language which Christendom adopted and developed at the time of the crusades. In silence and in hope she spake, through the eyes, to the heart of Christendom, of the noble deeds of her children, and she is altogether indispensable if the heraldric allusions in Dante, Chaucer, Spenser, Shakespeare, Scott, etc., are not to be entirely lost.

Heraldry has received the sanction of centuries, and a herald of the true strain is neither finicking, fretful nor faulty, but full of goodly joy and at times even of pious mirth. And if some peep and mutter at abuses, forgetting that the abuse of anything is no argument against its proper use, others see and learn that heraldry has educational value, is to many a race a wayside sacrament and blazes broad its potent influence—namely, that nothing must be done to tarnish the family escutcheon.

In England also, in the absence of hereditary rank, coat armor is the only distinctive mark of birth and high blood for the untitled nobility.—Nineteenth Century.

Heavy Justice.

It seems that abnormally stout people have their uses in this world as well as other things. The other day, as an exceedingly corpulent old gentleman was leisurely proceeding along Regent street, a detected pickpocket, who was fleeing at the top of his speed from two myrmidons of the law, violently collided with him, and the pair rolled over in the gutter together, the stout gentleman on top.

The pickpocket made strenuous but unavailing efforts to extricate himself from under the mountain of flesh, but the corpulent gentleman remained a fixture until the pursuers came up and captured the rascal.

Then the fat man picked himself up, nothing the worse for his mishap and moved off with the remark that so long as he had breath in his body, his weight would "always be thrown on the side of law and justice."—Pearson's Weekly.

Artificial Halos or "Sun Dogs."

An experiment which illustrates in a very curious manner the actual philosophy of the formation of halos or "sun-dogs" has been made by Drs. Brewer and Dixon and is explained by them as follows: Take a solution of alum and spread a few drops of it over a pane of glass. It will readily crystalize in small, flat octohedrons, scarcely visible to the eye. When this pane of prepared glass is held between the observer and the sun, or even a candle (with eyes very close to the smooth side of the glass), there will be seen three different but distinct and beautiful halos, each at a different distance from the luminous body.—St. Louis Republic.

A Royal Draftsman.

The late shah of Persia was an excellent draftsman. On his visit to England seven years ago he sketched the artist of The Graphic as that gentleman was sketching him, and the royal drawing was dashed off with a keen yet unexaggerated power of caricature not often met with in an amateur's work.

Albany claims the honor of having made the first carriages manufactured entire in this country. Several were built in the year 1814, and the event was duly noted at the time as an evidence of the spread of United States enterprise.

Henry III of France was surnamed the Minion, it is said, on account of his compliance with the wishes of the emperor.

One thousand cubic centimeters equal a quart of the standard measures in use in this country.

OLNEY'S BIG VICTORY.

England Will Get Little Land by the Treaty.

VENEZUELA IS IN GREAT LUCK.

Under the Terms of Settlement That Country Will Be Awarded Entire Barima Gold Section, Also the Orinoco River Country—Counsel Scruggs Talks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Ex-Minister Scruggs, who is acting as counsel for the Venezuela government says the effect of the clause in the arbitration treaty making 50 years essential to constitute "settled districts" in the Venezuela boundary dispute will be to give Venezuela the entire Barima gold country, which is the most valuable tract in Venezuela and also the entire Orinoco river country, including the waterway itself, the banks, the mouth and the islands of the mouth.

The British have a coaling station and rendezvous on one of these islands, but Mr. Scruggs says the British occupancy began in 1886 and cannot possibly come within the 50-year-term of the settlement. In his opinion, the evidence will narrow the British 50-year occupancy to the small strip of land, triangular in form, between the Cuyuni and Pomerin rivers. This is far to the east and south of the valuable Orinoco and Barima country, which constitutes the great issue at stake.

SOVEREIGN RE-ELECTED.

He Will Head the K. of L. Another Term—Conn Expelled.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The general assembly of the Knights of Labor has heard the report of the committee on appeals and grievances on the case of the Washington Times and its editor, C. G. Conn, ex-congressman from the Thirteenth Indiana district. He was expelled from the order and placed on the unfair list.

These officers were elected: Grand master workman, James R. Sovereign, Arkansas; general worthy foreman, Thomas B. McGuire, Amsterdam, N. Y.; general secretary-treasurer, John W. Hayes, New Jersey; general executive board, Henry D. Martin, Minneapolis; Andrew D. Best, Brooklyn, and Daniel Brown, Butte City, Mon.

It was voted by the general assembly to refuse to reorganize or sustain organizations of any men who have taken the places of men on strike. This action was taken because in the past some of the organizations have been careless as to whom were admitted to membership.

SILVER DOLLARS COINED.

A Net Gain of Gold In the Treasury Reported.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The reports of the treasury department show that from Feb. 1, 1896, to Nov. 1, there were coined at the mints of the United States, 16,262,922 standard silver dollars, from the balance of silver bullion on hand purchased under the act of July 14, 1890. The seigniorage upon this amount was $5,051,430, which has been turned into the treasury. The balance of the silver bullion purchased under the act of 1890 on hand Nov. 1, 1896, was 126,061,263 fine ounces, which cost the government $112,865,625. The coinage value of this amount is $161,-693,000.

The treasury lost $34,200 in gold coin and $29,700 in bars, which leaves the true amount of the reserve $126,181,088. The net gain in gold was $383,000.

Sailed to Escape Serious Charges.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—It was announced on Saturday, Nov. 14, that James M. White, member of parliament of Forfarshire and head of the firm of J. F. White & Co., New York importers of textiles, had resigned his seat "owing to business considerations." It now appears that Mr. White has sailed for India owing to serious charges against him.

Woman Suffrage Won In Idaho.

BOISE CITY, Nov. 18.—From unofficial sources it is learned that the woman suffrage amendment to the constitution has a majority of nearly 5,000. It may be nullified by a court ruling that votes not cast either for or against are to be construed as being cast against a measure. The question will be taken into court as soon as possible.

Want a Law Against Football.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 18.—Citizens who are opposed to football have held a meeting to discuss the killing of Bert Serf, the quarterback of the Doane college eleven. It was decided to ask the next legislature to pass a bill making the playing of football a misdemeanor. It was stated that Florida had such a law.

SEAL HERDS NOT EXTINCT.

David Starr Jordan Going to Washington to Make His Report.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—David Starr Jordan, president of the Leland Stanford university, is here. He is a member of the Bering sea commission and is on his way to Washington to make his report to the secretary of the treasury.

"We hope that we have left nothing undone," said he, "and we hope for a speedy and honorable settlement of the long dispute. Our herds on the islands of St. Paul and St. George are three times as large as those upon the Russian seal islands. They number about 140,-000 breeding females or about 420,000 of all ages and both sexes. This is about one-fifth of the number we had on those islands ten years ago. They will recruit their number fast enough if they are left alone upon the water and no females are killed. The Japanese herds have been exterminated by European and American killers. There were formerly four of these herds on the Kwri islands, north of Japan. We were on the islands. These herds were there five or six years ago, but are gone now."

A BRUTE SHOT DEAD.

He Assaulted a Little Girl In Southwestern Indiana.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 18.—Fred Williams called at the home of Mrs. Palm, who was ill, and attempted to assault her, at Carbon, a mining village in Pike county. Her entreaties proved of no avail. Just then the woman's 12-year-old child entered the room. Williams transferred his lustful attempts to the child and accomplished his purpose.

As soon as Williams escaped an alarm was given and a posse was organized and began the chase. Williams was overtaken and shot dead while trying to escape. His victim may die.

Negroes Not Allowed There.

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 18.—Smith Torian, colored, has been brought here from Altoona, 15 miles below here, on the Tennessee river. He is riddled with buckshot. He reports that about 15 colored people wers cutting stave timber for the Standard Oil company. A mob of about 100 men surrounded their hut and opened fire. No negroes are allowed in that section. Several were wounded.

Caution about the Use and Selections of Spectacles
"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort; also will be able to read it with each eye separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. THE PIONEER WILL PAY

But Not Until Judge Robinson Has Decided.

A THOUSAND DOLLARS INVOLVED

They Gave Notes to Put the Business of the Concern on a Good Basis, and Two Were Given the Man Who Placed Them. Disputed.

LISBON, Nov. 18.—[Special]—One of the most complicated cases on the calendar is that of Stevenson & Co. against the Pioneer, of Wellsville, which has been tried to Judge Robinson on the answer and cross petition of William H. Gaylord, of Cleveland, who seeks to recover on two notes held by him, and to which the defendant questions his right of possession.

In July three years ago the directors of the pottery voted to issue bonds in the sum of $52,000 for the purpose of paying off their indebtedness. They were issued and delivered to Julius Lembeck, who was to place them with the First National banks of Ravenna and Wellsville, and the City National of Canton. With the knowledge and consent of Treasurer H. S. Lewis only, Lembeck reserved two of the notes of $500 each as his compensation, which he transferred to Gaylord. When the notes were presented for payment the company refused to acknowledge his right, and consequently the cross petition was filed by him to the suit then pending in which Stevenson & Co., were plaintiffs. Judge Robinson will probably render a decision some time this week.

NO RELIEF

For Residents Who Want a Useless Horse Killed.

A resident of Avondale street this morning called on Humane Agent Lloyd, and stated there was a horse running about the street that no one seemed to own, and as it had been there for several days it was thought best to notify the authorities. Agent Lloyd is unable to furnish any relief from the fact that he can secure no burying ground for the animal unless he pays for it, and as there is not a cent in the treasury of the Humane society, he does not feel like paying it out of his own pocket, inasmuch as almost all the work he has done the past year has been gratuitous. An effort will be made to find the owner of the animal, and if it is successful he will not only have to pay for its burial, but will be arrested and compelled to answer a charge of cruelty to animals.

ONLY A GOOSE,

But It is Causing Some People No End of Trouble.

A common every day goose is the bone of contention in a case being argued before Squire Morley this afternoon. W. H. McLean claims that a goose now in possession of Elsie Vandine, of West End, is his property, and alleges it was stolen from him. McLean prefered a charge of larceny against Vandine, and he was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Bertele. Vandine procured bail, and was released. He asserts he did not purloin the goose but found it wandering at large. There are many witnesses.

ANOTHER CHARGE

Because Parents Do Not Send Their Children to School.

Truant Officer Beardmore is determined that all parents must compel their children to attend school or suffer the consequences. Today a complaint was made before the mayor against Samuel Buzzard, whose son Newell has been absent from school for some time. About a year ago the lad was sent to Fairmount home for refusing to go to school, but recently he was permitted to return to the home of his father.

BLOOD POISON.

It Has Made Mrs. R. F. Bradley Very Ill.

Not long ago Mrs. R. F. Bradley, of May street, sustained a long cut in her wrist by falling on a broken dish. Before the wound healed blood poison appeared, and her arm swelled to an enormous size. Mrs. Bradley has lost the use of her arm, and it is feared serious results will follow. She suffers great pain.

Closed the Library.

The public library will be closed all of Friday because of the funeral of Miss Hattie Curry.

JOHN HUGHES FORGOT

But the East Liverpool Pottery Did Not.

TOO MUCH MONEY WAS PAID

To an Employe Who Promised but Neglected to Return It—An Arrest Brought the Affair to an End This Afternoon.

Constable Lyon this afternoon arrested John A. Hughes on a charge of theft entered before Squire Rose by John W. Hall.

The young man until recently was employed by the East Liverpool Pottery company, and in paying wages one Saturday evening he was by mistake given $17.25, just $10.25 more than was due him. The mistake was soon noticed, and the attention of the young man was called to the fact. He promised to rectify it at once, but he failed to do it. The mayor was then notified, and at once sent an officer after Hughes. The company did not wish to bring action against him, and upon his promise to return the amount he was permitted to go. Again he forgot all about the matter, and after waiting for several days the above action was brought against him. The theft comes under the head of larceny, and would mean a serious thing should the charge be pushed, but it will be dropped in case the money is forthcoming, as Mr. Hall has no desire to have him sent to jail. The case is at present pending a settlement.

THROUGH A WINDOW

Fell R. B. Watson at His Sixth Street Building.

R. B. Watson met with an accident this afternoon which might have been serious. Mounted on a ladder placed on the frame awning in front of his place of business, he was taking down the canvas over the upstairs windows when the ladder slipped. Mr. Watson was thrown forward, and his hands going through the glass were severely cut.

NEXT SATURDAY

The Family of Henry Ivers Will Be Allowed to Go.

The house occupied by Henry Ivers and family on Cadmus street has been fumigated, and the people will be allowed to do as they please after next Saturday. The Ivers family have had the worst experience of the diphtheria epidemic, four members having been ill. Two of them died, and the family have been quarantined for the best part of six weeks.

The Dreaded Germ.

At the British association Dr. Kanthack, who speaks with great authority on the subject, read a paper on "Bacteria In Food," in which he pointed out that one might swallow any amount of micro-organisms with food without any injury. Milk ordinarily contains about a million germs per cubic centimeter, in sandwiches they are too numerous to count, oysters teem with them, and ices from a fashionable confectioner's were found to contain from 10,000,000 to 14,000,000, or considerably more than the much abused Italian street vender's wares. There is not the least doubt in the world that we eat, drink and breathe any quantity of germs without suffering in the smallest degree, day by day, unless the germ happen to be of a particular sort and to meet with a suitable soil. All the "scientific" fuss about the necessity of boiling this and sterilizing that in order to kill the germs is a piece of unscientific babble founded upon a set of theoretic assumptions which take no account of actual everyday facts. Of course the bacteriologists will not admit their mistake without a struggle, and Dr. Kanthack met with a good deal of criticism. Nevertheless he is right, and one of these days every one will be saying the same thing.—St. James Gazette.

A Pair of Owls.

"Chubby Kratz" was presented at the Grand last evening to a fair audience by the Rentfrew Comedy company. The play was fully up to the standard, and was presented in a very creditable manner. Tonight "A Pair of Owls" will be played.

No More Pain.

The bullet in the arm of Edward Marion, who accidently shot himself while cleaning a revolver Sunday, has not been located. The wound has ceased to give its owner pain.

Broke a Shaft.

The towboat Cruiser went up yesterday with a broken shaft. The accident happened at Madison, Ind. The Mariner went down last night. It will bring up the tow of the Cruiser.

Meet Tonight.

Trades council will meet in regular session this evening. The semi-annual election of officers will take place, and several other important matters will be thoroughly discussed.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—T. J. Barnes is a Pittsburg visitor today.

—Charles Hickman, of Cleveland, is visiting friends in the city.

—Mrs. A. J. Cartwright and Miss Mollie Sheal left this afternoon to visit friends in Alliance.

THE WOOD.

Witch hazel, dogwood and the maple here,
And there the oak and hickory,
Linn, poplar and the beech tree far and near
As the eased eye can see.

Wild ginger, wahoo, with its roan balloon,
And brakes of briers of a twilight green,
And fox grapes plumed with summer, and strung moons
Of mandrake flower between.

Deep gold green ferns and mosses red and gray—
Mats for what naked myth's white feet—
And cool and calm a cascade far away,
With ever falling beat.

Old logs made sweet with death, rough bits of bark,
And tangled twig and knotted root,
And sunshine splashes, and great pools of dark,
And many a wild bird's flute.

Here let me sit until the Indian dusk
With copper colored feet comes down,
Sowing the wildwood with star firs and musk
And shadows blue and brown.

Then side by side with some magician dream
To take the owlet haunted lane,
Half roofed with vines, led by a firefly gleam,
That brings me home again.
—Madison Cawein in "Undertones."

HERALDRY.

One View of the Shorthand of History and Chronology.

Heraldry can make the world a glorified world. It is a quarry where every one may hew and a sea where every one may dip his oar, and if heraldry became again a fine art she could be once more the bride of history, while art with her tumult of enthusiasm alone can deck her fittingly. Without art heraldry is an uncouth and dead thing; with art she liveth for every one and is truly a science.

Heraldry creates intelligent curiosity and stimulates historic imagination. She awakens interest in generations gone by and should be taught, says Mr. Ruskin, to the young men and maidens of the street and lane, for heraldry helps to decipher the forgotten handwriting on the wall and the glorious record of our ancestors' doings and strivings and progress and upward climbing in the long crusade against tyranny and slavery and ignorance and intolerance.

That heraldry is the shorthand of history and chronology seems to be now allowed, and heraldry, in a sense, should be the application of the fine arts of sculpture and painting to family history. It is the silent language which Christendom adopted and developed at the time of the crusades. In silence and in hope she spake, through the eyes, to the heart of Christendom, of the noble deeds of her children, and she is altogether indispensable if the heraldric allusions in Dante, Chaucer, Spenser, Shakespeare, Scott, etc., are not to be entirely lost.

Heraldry has received the sanction of centuries, and a herald of the true strain is neither finicking, fretful nor faulty, but full of goodly joy and at times even of pious mirth. And if some peep and mutter at abuses, forgetting that the abuse of anything is no argument against its proper use, others see and learn that heraldry has educational value, is to many a race a wayside sacrament and blazes broad its potent influence—namely, that nothing must be done to tarnish the family escutcheon.

In England also, in the absence of hereditary rank, coat armor is the only distinctive mark of birth and high blood for the untitled nobility.—Nineteenth Century.

Heavy Justice.

It seems that abnormally stout people have their uses in this world as well as other things. The other day, as an exceedingly corpulent old gentleman was leisurely proceeding along Regent street, a detected pickpocket, who was fleeing at the top of his speed from two myrmidons of the law, violently collided with him, and the pair rolled over in the gutter together, the stout gentleman on top.

The pickpocket made strenuous but unavailing efforts to extricate himself from under the mountain of flesh, but the corpulent gentleman remained a fixture until the pursuers came up and captured the rascal.

Then the fat man picked himself up, nothing the worse for his mishap and moved off with the remark that so long as he had breath in his body, his weight would "always be thrown on the side of law and justice."—Pearson's Weekly.

Artificial Halos or "Sun Dogs."

An experiment which illustrates in a very curious manner the actual philosophy of the formation of halos or "sundogs" has been made by Drs. Brewer and Dixon and is explained by them as follows: Take a solution of alum and spread a few drops of it over a pane of glass. It will readily crystalize in small, flat octohedrons, scarcely visible to the eye. When this pane of prepared glass is held between the observer and the sun, or even a candle (with eyes very close to the smooth side of the glass), there will be seen three different but distinct and beautiful halos, each at a different distance from the luminous body.—St. Louis Republic.

A Royal Draftsman.

The late shah of Persia was an excellent draftsman. On his visit to England seven years ago he sketched the artist of The Graphic as that gentleman was sketching him, and the royal drawing was dashed off with a keen yet unexaggerated power of caricature not often met with in an amateur's work.

Albany claims the honor of having made the first carriages manufactured entire in this country. Several were built in the year 1814, and the event was duly noted at the time as an evidence of the spread of United States enterprise.

Henry III of France was surnamed the Minion, it is said, on account of his compliance with the wishes of the emperor.

One thousand cubic centimeters equal a quart of the standard measures in use in this country.

OLNEY'S BIG VICTORY.

England Will Get Little Land by the Treaty.

VENEZUELA IS IN GREAT LUCK.

Under the Terms of Settlement That Country Will Be Awarded Entire Barima Gold Section, Also the Orinoco River Country—Counsel Scruggs Talks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Ex-Minister Scruggs, who is acting as counsel for the Venezuela government says the effect of the clause in the arbitration treaty making 50 years essential to constitute "settled districts" in the Venezuela boundary dispute will be to give Venezuela the entire Barima gold country, which is the most valuable tract in Venezuela and also the entire Orinoco river country, including the waterway itself, the banks, the mouth and the islands of the mouth.

The British have a coaling station and rendezvous on one of these islands, but Mr. Scruggs says the British occupancy began in 1886 and cannot possibly come within the 50-year-term of the settlement. In his opinion, the evidence will narrow the British 50-year occupancy to the small strip of land, triangular in form, between the Cuyuni and Pomerin rivers. This is far to the east and south of the valuable Orinoco and Barima country, which constitutes the great issue at stake.

SOVEREIGN RE-ELECTED.

He Will Head the K. of L. Another Term—Conn Expelled.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The general assembly of the Knights of Labor has heard the report of the committee on appeals and grievances on the case of the Washington Times and its editor, C. G. Conn, ex-congressman from the Thirteenth Indiana district. He was expelled from the order and placed on the unfair list.

These officers were elected: Grand master workman, James R. Sovereign, Arkansas; general worthy foreman, Thomas B. McGuire, Amsterdam, N. Y.; general secretary-treasurer, John W. Hayes, New Jersey; general executive board, Henry D. Martin, Minneapolis; Andrew D. Best, Brooklyn, and Daniel Brown, Butte City, Mon.

It was voted by the general assembly to refuse to reorganize or sustain organizations of any men who have taken the places of men on strike. This action was taken because in the past some of the organizations have been careless as to whom were admitted to membership.

SILVER DOLLARS COINED.

A Net Gain of Gold In the Treasury Reported.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The reports of the treasury department show that from Feb. 1, 1896, to Nov. 1, there were coined at the mints of the United States, 16,262,922 standard silver dollars, from the balance of silver bullion on hand purchased under the act of July 14, 1890. The seigniorage upon this amount was $5,051,430, which has been turned into the treasury. The balance of the silver bullion purchased under the act of 1890 on hand Nov. 1, 1896, was 126,061,263 fine ounces, which cost the government $112,865,625. The coinage value of this amount is $161,693,000.

The treasury lost $34,200 in gold coin and $29,700 in bars, which leaves the true amount of the reserve $126,181,088. The net gain in gold was $383,000.

Sailed to Escape Serious Charges.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—It was announced on Saturday, Nov. 14, that James M. White, member of parliament of Forfarshire and head of the firm of J. F. White & Co., New York importers of textiles, had resigned his seat "owing to business considerations." It now appears that Mr. White has sailed for India owing to serious charges against him.

BOISE CITY, Nov. 18.—From unofficial sources it is learned that the woman suffrage amendment to the constitution has a majority of nearly 5,000. It may be nullified by a court ruling that votes not cast either for or against are to be construed as being cast against a measure. The question will be taken into court as soon as possible.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 18.—Citizens who are opposed to football have held a meeting to discuss the killing of Bert Serf, the quarterback of the Doane college eleven. SEAL HERDS NOT EXTINCT.

David Starr Jordan Going to Washington to Make His Report.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—David Starr Jordan, president of the Leland Stanford university, is here. He is a member of the Bering sea commission and is on his way to Washington to make his report to the secretary of the treasury.

"We hope that we have left nothing undone," said he, "and we hope for a speedy and honorable settlement of the long dispute. Our herds on the islands of St. Paul and St. George are three times as large as those upon the Russian seal islands. They number about 140,000 breeding females or about 420,000 of all ages and both sexes. This is about one-fifth of the number we had on those islands ten years ago. They will recruit their number fast enough if they are left alone upon the water and no females are killed. The Japanese herds have been exterminated by European and American killers. There were formerly four of these herds on the Kwri islands, north of Japan. We were on the islands. These herds were there five or six years ago, but are gone now."

A BRUTE SHOT DEAD.

He Assaulted a Little Girl In Southwestern Indiana.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 18.—Fred Williams called at the home of Mrs. Palm, who was ill, and attempted to assault her, at Carbon, a mining village in Pike county. Her entreaties proved of no avail. Just then the woman's 12-year-old child entered the room. Williams transferred his lustful attempts to the child and accomplished his purpose.

As soon as Williams escaped an alarm was given and a posse was organized and began the chase. Williams was overtaken and shot dead while trying to escape. His victim may die.

He reports that about 15 colored people wers cutting stave timber for the Standard Oil company. A mob of about 100 men surrounded their hut and opened fire. No negroes are allowed in that section. Several were wounded.

Caution about the Use and Selections of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort; also will be able to read it with each eye separately. If unable to do so your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or sewing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The lenses sold in the cheap goods are of unequal density and have imperfectly formed surfaces. Continued use of these poorer lenses will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation to supply the defects in the glass."
